THE 'Marina has, we are afraid, collapsed The license which expired yesterday has not been renewed. The venture was somewhat Quixotic; and it is doubtful if would have been a success even with the best management. One of the chief attractions of a hotel is easy access. People won't put themselves to inconvenience go to a hotel.

WE would remind our readers of the performance to-morrow evening of Mr Vita's colebrated invenile troupe, assisted by lady and gentleman amateurs. Our Shanghai contemporaries spoke very highly of the troupe, praising especially the performnace of Master Say, who is a veritable little prodigy. The troupe gave an entertainment in the Shameen Hotel last week which was highly appreciated.

PERHAPS the 'pioneers' in Hongkong may find some consolation from the following extracts from a report by Captain R. D. Beeston, Acting Superintendent of Immigration in British North Burneo : - There can be no doubt whatever of the great strides to an improved condition of planting affairs that have been made in the last year on all the estates on the Kinabatangan. There can be no doubt that it is conclusivey proved that tobacco equal to Sumatra leaf in quality can be grown on this river. It has been a question of fighting against the drawbacks incidental to all new enterprises of this sort in tropical countries, sickness among the imported coolies being the most serious. From enquiries I have made I find that the same difficulties that have existed in the pioneer tobacco plantations in Borneo existed in an equal orlarger degree in Deli. I feel sure the industry will flourish in the long run in Borneo, and achieve the same success it has in Sumatra. Sumatra had its period of pioneering, and the pioneers in most cases were not the ultimate gainers. Pioneers seldom are, but the industry, and the consequent increased revenue of the country, are in the long run established

The hon, the Colonial Secretary as Chairman of that meeting would not allow them to be discused or put to the vote, nor would he allow them to appear in the report of the Select Compermission to bring them before the Council, in the shape of resolutions. The unofficial members present at the meetings of the Select Committee have endeavoured to give their best consideration to the salaries question, and they are of opinion that all personal allowances, special grants, fees of office and other payments of a like naturo should no discontinued, and that salaries in dollars should be fixed, the sums to include all allowances where possible. I think it is very advisable that everything of the nature of personal allowances should be discontinued, and that for each office there should be a fixed maximum aslary equivalent to any promotion which the holder of the office might reasonably hope to obtain if the rule had not been made. I think these resolutions propose changes that are wanted here, and that it would improve the status and position of officers of the Government when they know what they should expect It may possibly seem hard in some cases to refuse promo-Health Ordinance was postponed. tion to other offices, but when you look at the circumstances all round it cortainly would appear for the good of the Colony that the regulations proposed should be

His Excellency -With reference, in the fir t instance, to an observation made by the hon, member at the foot of the table (Mr Whitehead) as to the Colonial ecretary having declared that the consideration of these resolutions in the Select Committee was out of order, I may say I think the Colonial Secretary in ruling that was quite correct. I find that on 11th October | 1883 the Secretary of State wrote a despatch on this question in which he said-I need hardly observe that personal allowances should be curtailed as far as possible and that pay should be as a general rule proportionate to the appointment, and that when the holder of it is a meritorious officer he should be promoted." There is no doubt that one should take into consideration these particular duties and not disturb the business connected with these offices more than is absolutely necessary; but I for one should he very reluctant to go to the extent of saying that any Police Magistrate in this colony should not obtain promution in the Civil Service. It appears o me it might be detrimental in several ways. the first place it would almost bar those belong to the Civil Service from accepting these offices, inasmuch as they would accept them on a general understanding that they are not to get promoted. In the second place, it would prevent those who hold office from looking forward to reasonable promotion. It is true that in these resolutions the words their views. In the above Colonial Office Despatch Lord Kuntsford distinctly informs the War Office that the Colony cannot be expected to pay its proportion of the extra cost of the increased Garrison until the additional troops have been provided. No extra or additional troops have been provided during the year 1890, therefore no additional expense has been incurred. Yet we are called upon to voto the increased contribution through the Council and in spite of the fact that circumstances have in no way changed since the date of the above Colonial Office.

Desputch to the War Office was panned. Such an arbitrary proceeding is not only maintained to the finish, and the line was unjust but is calculated to bring about a constitutional crisis. There has been no unwillingness on the part of the Colony to pour its share of the burdens imposed by the Imperial Government. > STANLEY'S COMPANY AT THE THEATRE ROYAL

Stanley's Company made their reppearance at the Theatre Royal on Saturday evening in the burlesque of Blue-Beard, a piece expressly written for them by the author of 'She-e' and 'Lilia,' two productions of a similar character which were performed with much success by the company on their previous visit to the colony. Burlesque ' is a brief description of Bine Beard ; it would require a great miny more words to define it accurately, but, as the much-abused term covers & multitude of dramatic and literary sins, its application to Blue Beard may be allowed pass. It is in this variety of butlesque that the company are most at home, and Mr Stanley showed far botter judgment in selecting such a piece to open the season with than when he introduced his company 4.— That His Excellency the Officer Ad. several months ago to a Hongkong conditions it was only natural that they should work all the more heartily to make the performance a audeess. The result was that the piece was very well received and applause was bestowed in the most liberal manner. The principal honour fell to Miss Santley, whose singing and acting are just of the kind which suit a part like that she has in Blue Beard. Miss F. Stanley. Miss Amy Childs, Miss Dolly Innian, Miss Schlericks, Miss Dolly Childs and Miss Ada Maitland all distinguished themselves moreor less according to their opportunities. Mr Pyne was well suited with the part of the Caliph Haroun Airaschid, and Mr Driscoll was an amusing if somewhat inconsistent Bue Beard. Mr Flotoher made a very successful appearance as Sister Anne. a part which he succeeded in making genuinely funny without buffornery. In the minor parts Mesars Empson, Lyndon, W. Stanley, Packard, Boyd and Liddiard gave efficient support. It is hardly necessary so say that Mr Trimnell and his orchestra were of immense assistance in making the performance so acceptable as

> Mr Leach recapitulated the arguments he addressed the Chief Justice in making the application last week, and moved that the prisoner be discharged from gack on the grounds that the proceedings at the Magistracy were irregular and that the evidence of the two chief witnesses for the prosecution was jucredible. With regard to the first ground, the Magistrate was bound by section 8 of the Extradition Ordinance to issue an order for the prisoner to be brought before him previous to hearing any evidence against him. No such order was issued, the Magistrate having merely given verbal instructions to some of the officers of the Police for the production of the prisoner. Where jurisdiction was granted to a Magistrate. that jurisdiction must be closely watched, and the Magistrate must follow all the conditions and regulations prescribed by the Ordinance which gave him jurisdiction.

The Chief Justice said that as the prisoner was already before the Magistrate the issuing of an order to bring him before him was surely not necessary. That would ordinance must be applied with common

The Chief Justice said he saw no reason why the prisoner should not be remanded to gaol to await the decision of the Acting Governor. The issuing of the order referred to was quite unnecessary in the circumstances. If the Magistrate's tomarks at the close of the evidence were correctly stated up doubt he had commented on the case to the Governor as was his duty, and it remained with the Governor to say whether the prisoner should be handed over or not.

Mr Justice Clarke concurred.

The rule was therefore discharged.

OBINA AND JAPAN.

The Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the Chinese Consul at Yokohama, have come to an understanding relative to the treatment of Chinese and Japanese sailors wrecked on each other's shores. The gist of the Agreement is as follows :-

1st, -If any Japanese subjects are cast away on any part of the Ca nese dominions, the Chinese authorities in the neighbourhood are to render all possible assistance to them, and provide them with the necessaries of life, until suc a time as belp can reach them from their own authorities; and Chinese subjects cast away on Japanese shores are to be similarly treated by the Japanese. All expenses in such cases are to be defrayed by the power whose subjects have been thus relieved.

2nd. -Whenever information is sent to a Chinese or Japanese official regarding a shipwreek within his jurisdiction, such official will at once despatch a deputy to the scene of the occurrence to render all the help in his power to the distressed The expenses of such a journey. shall be borne by the Government of the country in which the wreck occurs, except in the case of special telegrams or disputches, the cost of which shall be borne by whoover such telegram or despatch may be

He leaves under a cloud, his accounts having been found to be crocked. The incoming Taotai is a relative of the Viceroy and may be expected to play into his hands in his dealings with foreigners. The Viceroy, whose officials illness I recorded some months ago, seems now to have quite recovered his official health. This he probably owes to his connection with Li Hung-chang, whose niece married the Viceroy's son last year.
